SCOTTISH BALLET

Associate Programme 2013/2014
Programme Information

All training is based on classical ballet and is supplemented by a variety of complementary subjects.

Junior Associates

Students attend classes either weekly or monthly (for those unable to travel on a weekly basis). Children study classical ballet, character, creative dance, participate in repertoire sessions with dancers from the Company, and attend Scottish Ballet performances. Sometimes it is even possible that they may be asked to perform with the Company.

Entry to the programme is by audition only but no previous dance experience is necessary. As the programme offers a two-year training course, children are encouraged to apply for entry at P6 level. Only a few places are available for children applying at P7 level and they will be offered only one year on the programme. Children need to show an aptitude for movement, co-ordination, a sense of rhythm and lots of personality together with an appropriate physique.

Mid Associates

Classes will be held weekly on Saturdays at Scottish Ballet. Class times will be 10am–1pm Mids (Level 2) and 1.30pm–4.30pm Mids (Level 1). This programme is intended for students who have the talent and focus to pursue a professional career in dance and the programme is structured to reflect this. In addition to the strong classical basis, Mid Associates will also study contemporary dance, repertoire and gyrokinesis. Girls will have pointework and boys will study virtuosity. Students entering S1 or S2 in September 2013 are eligible to apply. Previous dance experience essential and all students must re-audition annually in order to continue with the programme.

Senior Associates

Classes are held weekly on Saturdays at Scottish Ballet. As the culmination of the Associate Programme, Senior Associates continue their classical ballet training with additional classes in contemporary dance, repertoire, pilates and gyrokinesis. Preparation for auditions for full-time vocational training is also provided to ensure students are ready to take the next step to a professional dance career.

Students are encouraged to fulfil their own potential, and their progress is continuously monitored. Applicants should be of approximately Intermediate standard and all students must re-audition annually in order to continue with the programme.

Please note: Students should only apply for the appropriate level e.g. a student entering S3 in September 2013 is not eligible to apply for Mid Associates.
